First and foremost, we are looking for energetic, motivated culinary team members who will take pride in what we do here at Jimmy's — pairing memorable meals with soul-stirring musical experiences for our guests.

You'll be cooking meats, fish, vegetables, soups and other hot food products; preparing and portioning food prior to cooking; final plate preparation including plating and garnishing of cooked items and preparing appropriate garnishes for all hot menu item plates.

Our ideal candidates will have experience with all kitchen workstations and cooking procedures; familiarity with preparing meats, fowl or shellfish prior to cooking; ability to uphold quality standards and ensure safe, sanitary food-handling practices.

Training for top candidates may also include leadership roles such as coordinating/supervising work of kitchen staff; working with supervisors to plan menu items, estimate expected food consumption, purchase supplies or procure food from storage.

We can talk more about the details when we receive your application!
